Study Psychotherapy Science & Psychology in English

In the international programme, SFU offers degree courses in Psychotherapy Science and Psychology in English, including a PhD programme in Psychotherapy Science with a duration of 6 semesters (=3 years). The Bachelor's degree course is a six semester (= 3 years) programme, including the Bachelor's thesis. The Master's degree programme lasts 4 semesters (= 2 years) and builds on the knowledge and experience gained in the Bachelor's programme. Upon successful completion, students are awarded a Master's degree.

Studying Psychology

Studying Psychology includes a scientific basic education with an emphasis on social-scientific research methods. Based on a strong combination of research-based teaching and evidence-based practice (Psychological Outpatient Clinic) students develop professional skills and qualifications that are oriented to actual human and societal problems.

Studying Psychotherapy Science

The Psychotherapy Science study programme provides the first pan-European academic, theoretical-scientific, and practical preparation for the psychotherapist profession. From the beginning, studies are supplemented by student self-awareness courses and practical placements. From the third year on, the study programme provides comprehensive specialization in well-established scientific psychotherapeutic methods: psychoanalysis, systemic family therapy, Gestalt therapy, individual psychology, person-centered psychotherapy, behavioral therapy, existential analysis, and transactional analysis.
